Conservation Advisory Working Party - 18/02/25

The Working Party objected to the proposal as conspicuous on this quietly important listed building which was modest and simple without fussy details. They considered that this choice of positioning was lazy and unsympathetic and did not preserve the significance of the building. The unit should be moved to a more considered and sympathetic location and any damage to the brickwork made good by an appropriately qualified builder.

Former Wilkos, Castle Walk, Newcastle 25/00030/ADV

The Working Party had no objections.

8 Brassington Street, Betley 25/00033/FUL

The Working Party objected to the design of the extension as too large, poor quality and inappropriate particularly on this elevation and for the existing character of the house which was simple and plain. The group considered that there was scope for an extension if properly designed. A two-storey gable extension would create a more balanced approach.

6. CONSERVATION AND HERITAGE FUND

There were no applications for funding.

7. URGENT BUSINESS

There was no urgent business.

Councillor Trevor Johnson
